THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

Ineffectual Appeal

Washington, Jan. 8.—AFTER the passage of several days it seems clear that President Truman's appeal to the people just did not ring the bell. So far as the country is concerned not a thing has been changed. Ineffectual is the word for it.

TRUE, Mr. Truman was no more evasive nor unsound than his predecessor often was, in his "fire-side chats," though it must be admitted Mr. Roosevelt could have taken the same speech and made it sound a lot better. It also will be agreed that if former Judge Sam Rosenman, who wrote so many of the Roosevelt messages and speeches wrote this one, his literary style has deteriorated. But that isn't why the speech was disappointing. That is not why it aroused neither great enthusiasm nor the one side nor violent criticism on the other.

THE reason it fell into the dud class is not because Mr. Truman's case against congressional committee inaction on his program is not a strong one, nor because his own purposes are not good. They are. There is much truth in Senator Taft's criticism that his program, except for the fact-finding board, is left wing and pro CIO-PAC. But the reason for the singular ineffectuality of his appeal is not explained by that. The reason is that he was neither firm, nor clear, nor concrete on the issue of overwhelming national importance about which the great bulk of our citizens are tremendously concerned.

THERE is now going on in the country a gigantic struggle between the unions and industry. The greatest union (UAW) has struck against the greatest industry (General Motors). Other great strikes in the steel, electric communications and meat-packing industries, loom. Literally millions of men and women are vitally affected. Grown great through years of Government backing under Mr. Roosevelt, the CIO has made large, and in some instances, concededly unreasonable demands. Convinced that if they yield, the heels of the labor bosses will be permanently on their necks and the ability to manage their own business lost, the employers are determined to fight to the finish.

INTO this battle the worried and well-meaning Mr. Truman stepped some weeks ago with his seemingly mild fact-finding proposal from which both sides revolt. The CIO bosses denounce it as a vicious "betrayal of labor." General Motors, Continued on Page Three

WEIGHING THE BUDGET

Within a matter of weeks President Truman will submit the first peacetime budget since the War, covering the year which begins next July 1.

This will be the most important budget in American history. It will make or break America's future.

Because of its importance, and because arguments about it will play a large part in political discussions in the coming months, voters owe it to themselves to try to understand the basis on which such a budget is to be judged.

It is no use asking whether the budget will balance. It won't. The President would have to throw overboard 90 per cent of his program to balance the budget.

Part of the proposed expenditures will show up in the budget, others will be tacked on the national debt, and still others will be handled in ways which keep them entirely out of the budget picture. For instance, various Federal lending agencies have a total credit estimated at $30,000,000,000 to $60,000,000,000, which is bound to be called on in an election year.

The first question to ask about the budget is, what is the true total? The second question is, how much could it be reduced without harm to the national economy?

HERE AND THERE IN BUCKS COUNTY TOWNS

Activities of Interest To All in The Various Communities

GLEANED BY SCRIBES

Donations to the Doylestown Emergency Hospital for the year 1945 amounted to $11,404.92. It was reported at the January meeting of the V. I. A. held at the home of Mrs. Charles H. Shive.

It was also reported that there is a scarcity of nurses, especially for night service, with the hospital filled to capacity. Some needed new equipment has been installed.

The Christmas party for 64 guests at the county home, arranged jointly by the welfare committee and the sororist club, consisted of a program of Christmas music and carol singing, ending with distribution of gifts from the Sororist Club and ice cream, cake, candy and fruit, provided by the V. I. A.

Announcement was made by Mrs. Leroy Kister of the February meeting, at which time Ira J. Mills, director of education for Eastern State Penitentiary, will speak on "Our Parole System."

After the close of the business meeting, members of the parliamentary practice class, assisted by several members of the Junior Women's Club, conducted a "Model Club Meeting," under the direction of Mrs. Calvin S. Boyer.

Two changes have taken place in the faculty at the Springfield high school.

1st Lt. C. B. Campbell, who was recently discharged from the Marines, returned to his position which he left three years ago when he entered the service. He will succeed the Rev. Donald McFall, of Quakertown, who has served as emergency teacher for the past year and a half. His subject will be social studies and boys' health.

The Rev. Luther Vogel, who has served as teacher since the death of I. A. Horne last March is leaving and will be succeeded by P. T. Richard Richmond, who was recently discharged from the army at Aberdeen, Md., chemical warfare center.

REPUBLICAN PARTY IS AMERICA'S ONLY HOPE TO BE SAVED FROM BANKRUPTCY AND COMMUNISM, SAYS SPEAKER

DOYLESTOWN, Jan. 8.—The Republican Party is America's only hope to be saved from bankruptcy and Communism, Senator Joseph R. Grundy warned last night speaking at a dinner in the Doylestown Inn honoring the incoming and outgoing Bucks County officers.

Expressing gratification for the Republican successes at the polls last Fall, Sen. Grundy stressed the importance of the coming campaigns in which high State and National offices are to be filled.

If a pro-Communist Congress is elected next November, he continued, the last roadblock to Communizing the United States will have been removed. The future welfare of the nation demands, he said, that the next Congress have a strong Republican majority.

For this reason, he said: "This year, to Republicans, politics is patriotism."

Another speaker at the meeting was the Hon. Franklin H. Lichtenwalter, of Center Valley, Lehigh County, who is Republican floor leader in the Pennsylvania House of Representatives.

J. Morton Cameron Accepts New Position

J. Morton Cameron, of Edison, Bucks county, today assumed his duties as personnel director of the Rohm and Haas plant here.

Cameron, who was the first man to be employed by the Bendix aviation corporation when their plant was opened in Phila., for war work, previously had been engaged in personnel work for the Budd Manufacturing Company.

A graduate of Germantown High School, Cameron at various times was with the Atwater Kent Company and with the State unemployment bureau and unemployment compensation commission.

Cameron succeeds Allen Fitch, who has moved to New England.

Wife and Baby of G. I. Arrive Here from Eire

Mrs. May Patricia Younkin, wife of Blair M. Younkin, of 419 Buckley street, who arrived in the United States recently on the American Airlines System flag-ship "Eire," with her young son, Blair William, aged one year, is of the opinion she is going to like making the United States her home.

Mrs. Younkin, who was greeted by her husband at LaGuardia Field, N. Y., on December 29th, came direct to Bristol, where she is learning the names of foods that appear so different from those in Eire, and becoming accustomed to many things that were strange to her.

The couple met when Younkin was serving with the Army Air Forces in Ireland, he being stationed there for 34 months. After a courtship of one year and nine days, they were wed in Belfast on February 16, 1944. Their son, Blair William, arrived in the United States in time to celebrate his first birthday anniversary on December 30th. This was the first time Mr. Younkin had seen his little son since he left Ireland last spring. Since his return to this country he has been granted an honorable discharge. The Younkins live with Mr. Younkin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Blair F. Younkin, at the Buckley street address.

COUNCILS OF THREE TOWNS REORGANIZE

Oaths Administered To New Councilmen at Hulmeville, Langhorne, S. Langhorne

OFFICERS ARE LISTED

Borough councilmen who were recently re-elected, also new councilmen, were administered the oaths of office at meetings of those bodies held in Hulmeville, Langhorne and South Langhorne, last evening. The groups then reorganized for the year.

Hulmeville borough council reorganized in Hulmeville town hall following administering of the oath of office to four members, Samuel J. Hlick, George Bilger, and Fred Bunting, recently re-elected, were sworn into office; and Raymond VanArtsdalen, who had been named to fill the unexpired term of Norman Davis, resigned, was also sworn in. Reginald Webb, who had been re-elected as a councilman, will be administered the oath at a later date, he not being present last evening. Burgess Leon R. Conly administered the oaths.

In re-organizing, council elected A. E. A. Bronson president. Miss Grace H. Hlick was re-named treasurer; and Frank Forker, secretary.

Mr. Bronson appointed the following committee members for the year: Highway, Webb, Hlick, and George Bilger; sidewalks, Bilger, VanArtsdalen, Ned Moyer; finance, Hlick, VanArtsdalen, Webb; lights, Moyer, Bunting, Webb; health, Bunting, Moyer, Hlick; police, VanArtsdalen, Bilger, and Bunting.

Following reading of a communication and information presented by the Rev. Albert W. Eastburn, regarding the continuation of activities of the Veterans' Advisory Council at Langhorne, council voted to donate the sum of $100 toward this project. The motion passed unanimously, council being informed that returning veterans are aided by the council in securing loans, advancing their education, and in becoming acquainted in general with their privileges under the G. I. Bill of Rights. The clergyman who is chaplain of Jesse W. Soby Post, American Legion, Langhorne, and who has for some time been assisting with the work in connection with the returning veterans, told of the general set-up of the council, and of how without such service the young men would experience difficulty in securing both service and satisfaction in regard to their needs. "The purpose is to get information and action for the men," informed Mr. Eastburn, as he told of specialists in various fields, such as finance, real estate, etc., being members of the council, and ready to give advice and assistance. Councils of various communities are being requested to aid financially, so that work of the office might be continued, re-

Claim Bans Against Use of Labor Saving Devices Hold Up New Buildings

WORK IS HAMPERED

(This is the third of three timely articles on the national housing emergency. They are based on an exclusive interview with one of the nation's foremost authorities on home building. The articles describe the many difficulties besetting the industry as it struggles to meet a goal of $3,000,000,000 worth of new homes in 1946.)

By Jack Vincent
(U. S. S. Staff Correspondent)

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—(INS)—Joseph E. Merrion, of Chicago, president of the National Association of Home Builders, today called on labor unions to withdraw their "weather-edged" bans against use of labor saving devices.

He pointed out that unions refused to allow use of spray guns to paint houses, insisting, in order to make work for painters, that the work must be done by hand with a brush. He added that there were a dozen and one other similar restrictions which hampered revival of the building industry.

Merrion also called on the unions to broaden their apprentice programs in order to insure that there will be an adequate force of labor to build the homes the nation so urgently needs.

The home builders were pointing toward a goal of 500,000 new homes this year, Merrion related: "The availability of labor is a serious problem this year and will be in the years to come. There has been very little training of apprentices during the war and depression years."

"The average age of skilled workers like carpenters and bricklayers is way up in the 50's," he said. "Labor also must make a very honest study of work making practices. It must take the lead in welcoming use of new materials and methods."

7000 Western Union Workers Strike in N. Y.

New York.—A strike of 7000 Western Union workers prematurely plunged New York City today into a partial telegraphic and cable blackout.

The walkout started at 7:19 a. m., almost four hours ahead of the scheduled 11 a. m. zero hour. Officials of the CIO-American Communications Association later said the deadline was advanced as a "strategy move."

Union officials issued orders that only government priority messages and communications from overseas are to be handled, and these only when delivery is not via Western Union.

The struck firm pressed into operating service "all executives from vice-president down in an effort to sustain partial service."

Center Hunt for Killer Near Victim's Home

Chicago.—Police announced today that they have centered the intense hunt for the sadistic mutilation murder of six-year-old Suzanne Degnan in Chicago's fashionable northside district where the child lived. It was in the same area that dismembered parts of the little girl's body, her head, her left leg, her right leg and her torso were found stuffed into sewers.

Chief of Detectives Walter Storms, who made the announcement that the search was being narrowed, disclosed that a cordon of 135 policemen and detectives had been assigned to comb the area to find the kidnaper's murder shop where the child's body was hacked to pieces.

He predicted finding of the murder room would lead police to the killer but he declined to say whether he expected an important arrest soon.

Police discovered a blood-stained refuse pushcart at the rear of an apartment building. The cart was found only a few feet from where the child's severed head was discovered in a sewer.

Accuse Frank of Executing 1700 Priests

Nuernberg.—Testimony accusing Hans Frank, one-time Nazi Gauleiter of Poland, of executing 1700 Roman Catholic priests was introduced at the Nuernberg war crimes trials today before the international tribunal. The evidence was embraced in a letter written by August, Cardinal Hohn, Arch-Bishop of Warsaw, to the Vatican.

The number of wanton killings had been recorded by January, 1941, while at the same time 3000 other priests were in concentration camps. Frank, known as the "Butcher of Poland" and one of the leading defendants at the trial, has been reported asking a Papal pardon for the crimes alleged against him.

CHAS. G. RATHKE NAMED PRESIDENT OF TOWN COUNCIL

Joseph B. Keating is Elected Secretary and William J. Lefferts as Treasurer

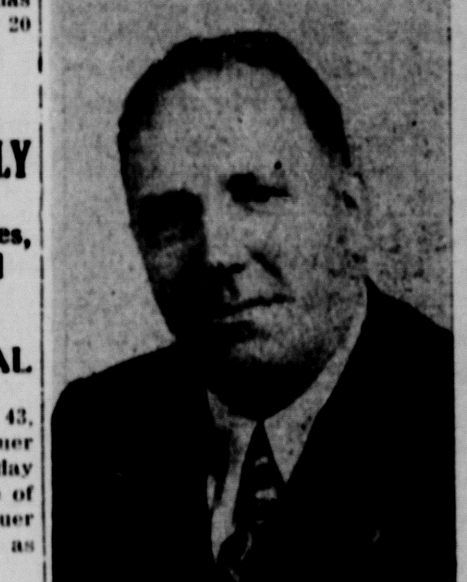

OTHER OFFICIALS

Organization Meeting Held With Newly-Elected Members in Attendance

Borough Council last night selected Charles G. Rathke as president of the borough legislative body to serve for a term of two years. Joseph B. Keating was named secretary and William J. Lefferts was re-elected as treasurer.

In nominating Keating for secretary of council, Louis C. Spring stated that William G. Lefferts, who has served as secretary and treasurer for many years, had advised that the combined position was too much work for a man regularly employed elsewhere. "Mr. Lefferts has consented to remain as borough treasurer," said Mr. Spring.

CHARLES G. RATHKE

All other borough officials chosen by council were re-elected as follows:

Borough solicitor, Howard I. James, Esq.; borough engineer, John S. Roberts, Jr.; borough surveyor, John S. Roberts, Jr.; building inspector, John S. Roberts, Jr.; Chief of Police, Linford J. Jones; Pound Keeper, Linford J. Jones.

There was no opposition to any of those nominated and the secretary was instructed to cast the ballot.

The organization meeting of council was held in the municipal building with 13 members present. Three new councilmen elected last November were present and took their seats: S. Joseph Alta, 2nd, second ward; Edward J. Riley and Joseph Genco, fifth ward.

The meeting was called to order by Burgess Jacob C. Schmidt, Sr., and at the conclusion of the election of officers, the Burgess invited Mr. Rathke to take the chair. The newly chosen president was applauded as he mounted the rostrum.

Mr. Rathke expressed his appreciation at being named head of the council and said that he thanked the council for giving the sixth ward the honor of having one of its members preside over the council; that he would continue to do his best as a councilman and would show no partiality presiding as president. Mr. Rathke's father, the late G. A. Rathke, represented the second ward in council for 35 years until the time of his death in 1929.

Mr. Keating was then presented as the newly elected secretary. Mr. Keating is a former member of Council.

Asks Withdrawal of Bans On Equipment

new methods even though the immediate effect is to take away work from the building trades.

Merrion pointed out not only the spray gun ban but many plumbing restrictions which unions had written into building codes or enforced themselves. He said much plumbing work could be done in the shops, pipes and fitting cut to standard sizes so they could be easily assembled. Instead, he added, union plumbers set up their workshops on the scene and take a couple of days to finish a task which actually could be done in "a great deal less time."

He said top-flight leaders of international unions agreed with him in principle but that such an attitude had not yet filtered down to local unions who do the actual sawing and hammering.

Merrion predicted that, given materials and labor, the home building industry would be operating at a 1,000,000 new residences a year rate by the end of 1948. He forecast, too, that the present demand for homes would carry the industry for from seven to 10 years.

The contractor said he believed that the most urgent needs of the nation for housing would be met if the industry can reach its 500,000 goal this year. He concluded, however, that the market over and above critical needs was almost unlimited.

feeling that to turn his books over to a Government board authorized to estimate its "ability to pay" is to abandon the managerial function, declares the proposals involve the survival of free enterprise and refuses to agree. And Congress refused the President's request to give his proposals legal authority.

—O—
THAT was the state of affairs when Mr. Truman made his appeal Thursday night. Industry, the unions and Congress all found his plan unacceptable. Yet, he had nothing better to suggest. He deplored the situation and repeated his request. But he did not deal candidly nor courageously with the issue. He was not, it is true, an anti-industry and abjectly CIO as was his predecessor in all such struggles and as undoubtedly he would have been in this had he lived. But he was disappointingly timid and tender toward General Motors, which he held up to the people as "refusing to co-operate." And, of course, sound as their reason was, that is what they did. However, it would have been fairer if Mr. Truman had not been completely silent on the refusal of the CIO to co-operate—if, for example, he had pointed out that the CIO bosses had contemptuously refused his request that they return to work while his fact-finding board was finding the facts.

—O—
AND it would have been better balanced his appeal if he had called the people's attention to the bumptious Mr. Reuther's statement that it was none of his board's business whether the CIO demand was reasonable or unreasonable. But he didn't do that. He called attention to General Motors' "refusal to co-operate" in one direction, but not to the CIO's refusal in the other direction. In brief, he was somewhat one-sided—"not so much as Mr. Roosevelt" used to be, but, anyhow, inclined in the same direction. Considering his background, perhaps, it was too much to expect Mr. Truman to rise wholly above political considerations in this business. Anyhow, he did not so rise, and that is what kept him from getting to grips with realities and robbed his appeal of all force.

DI TANNA BREAKS SCORING RECORD IN YOUTH LEAGUE

Rolls In a Total of 29 Points To Help Ramblers To Win

EDGELEY LOSES, 75 TO 52

Celtics Defeats Fifth Ward Sporters by Score of 33 to 19

"Lefty" DiTanna broke the individual scoring record of the Bristol Youth League last night when he scored 29 points in helping the Ramblers swamp the Edgely A. C. 75-52, on the Mutual Aid floor.

DiTanna also held the previous record of 24, made on December 20th when the Ramblers trounced the Celtics, 85-20. This game was later forfeited because the Ramblers used an over-aged player.

DiTanna topped "Freddie" Constantini, his teammate, by one point in breaking the record for Constantini had 28 points to his credit, scoring 14 field goals. However, he missed on one of his foul tries while DiTanna also scored 14 fielders but converted one of his free shots.

There was no doubt as to the outcome of last night's fracas as the Rams went into the lead early in the contest and increased it as the minutes passed by. In the final quarter of the tilt, the Ramblers scored 23 points.

The triumph enabled the Ramblers to move into a deadlock with the Fifth Ward Sporters for seventh position.

A strong defense by the Celtics enabled them to defeat the Fifth Ward Sporters in the other Youth League game played on the Mutual Aid floor. Final score was: Celtics, 33; Sporters, 19.

Both teams were slow in getting started with the Fifth Ward aggregation holding a 4-3 lead at the first quarter and the Celtics going ahead at half-time, 17-12. The Sporters were failures in the final two periods, only scoring four points in each.

Ralph Manera and Kline led the winners with 12 and 11 points, respectively.
